Breakfast @ Dinner

From the hearty country breakfast served every morning to the sumptuous dinner served at night, food is an important part of the warm hospitality that we offer here at the Inn. The parlor, dining rooms, and terrace have exceptional views of the back meadow and the rolling hills beyond. The terrace, surrounded by perennial gardens and crab apple trees, is a wonderful place to enjoy a glass of wine before dinner.

Breakfast and dinner are served in the porch dining room (which has only four tables) as well as in the main dining room, with its wall of windows and cathedral ceiling. The porch was designed with intimacy in mind, a great place for a quiet dinner for two, or a private party for twelve or less.

The Chesterfield Inn is located off of Route 9 between Brattleboro, Vermont and Keene, New Hampshire. If you're using GPS to find the inn, you may want to check our directions online so you follow the most direct route to the inn.
